In answer to the original question, exam papers are generally 'leaked' when they get stolen, or in rarer cases, through administrative errors. And yes, exam boards will endeavour to set alternative papers when necessary and pay particularly close attention to marking evidence that might suggest trouble.

"The papers are never leaked, and they are only opened at the examination times. Your teachers should know what's in them at the same time as you do. And if anybody from the board leaked the questions, you can be sure your paper would be cancelled and you forced to resit the exam together with everybody else." NOT TRUE!
